

PSHE

YEARS 3 AND 4

SPRING 2-RELATIONSHIPS

VALUING DIFFERENCES

Lesson 5: Monday 1st March 2021

Learning Objectives:

To learn:

- How to listen and respond respectfully to a wide range of people
- About sharing their points of view

Learning Outcomes:

- To describe what it means to listen well to others
- To know why it is important to listen to other's points of view
- To understand that it is important to take other's feelings into consideration before responding
- Identify ways to constructively challenge other's points of view

Why is listening important?

Think of different situations when listening is important.....

For example:
Listening to a story...

What makes a good listener?

Watch the clip from the film 'Inside Out'. When Bing Bong is sad, the characters 'Joy' and 'Sadness' try to help him in very different ways..

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=t685WM5R6aM>

Task 1:

Draw the two characters and write how they tried to help Bing Bong when he was sad and think about why they took this approach...

Joy

How did Joy try to help?

Why do you think she did that?

Sadness

How did Sadness try to help?

Why do you think she did that?

Joy and Sadness were both well intentioned, they both wanted to help Bing Bong. Joy tried to distract him and cheer him up by pulling funny faces and tickling him. Often when people are sad we want to make them happy, sometimes though people need to just have someone to listen to them and they need to express their feelings...

Sadness showed great understanding and empathy towards Bing Bong and his feelings. She was a very good listener.

What happens when we don't agree with others?

Sometimes we find ourselves in situations when we don't agree with other people and we have different views....

Can you think of disagreements you have had, at home and at school?

How to listen to other's points of view and resolve disagreements:

Watch the clip to find out useful ways to resolve and listen to different points of view...

It's good to talk and it's great to listen

I hope you found today's PSHE lesson useful children.
Remember it's okay to have different views but it's important that we express them in the right way.
Have a good day all!
